D. Glossary

of delivering reliable financial reporting, effective and efficient operations, compliance with applicable laws, and reports to interested parties.  Accrual basis of accounting  The effects of transactions and other events are recognised when they occur (and not as cash or its equivalent is received or paid) and they are recorded in the accounting records and reported in the financial statements of the periods to which they relate.  Auditor-General Act 2009  An Act of the State of Queensland that establishes the responsibilities of the Auditor-General, the operation of the Queensland Audit Office, the nature and scope of audits to be conducted, and the relationship of the Auditor-General with parliament.  Australian accounting standards  The rules by which financial statements are prepared in Australia. These standards ensure consistency in measuring and reporting on similar transactions.  Australian Accounting Standards  Board (AASB)  An Australian Government agency that develops and maintains accounting standards applicable to entities in the private and public sectors of the Australian economy.  Capital expenditure  Expenditure to acquire assets or improve the service potential of existing assets that are capitalised to the balance sheet (which means that the cost of the assets can be allocated over the years for which the asset will be in use).  Controlled entities  The capacity of an entity to dominate decision-making, directly or indirectly, in relation to the financial and operating policies of another entity so as to enable that other entity to operate with it in achieving the objectives of the controlling entity.  Depreciation  The systematic allocation of a fixed asset's value as an expense over its expected useful life, to take account of normal usage, obsolescence, or the passage of time.  Emphasis of matter  A paragraph included with an audit opinion to highlight an issue of which the auditor believes the users of the financial statements need to be aware. The inclusion of an emphasis of matter par	Term	Definition they occur (and not as cash or its equivalent is received or paid) and they are recorded in the accounting records and reported in the financial statements of the periods to which they relate.  Auditor-General Act 2009  An Act of the State of Queensland that establishes the responsibilities of the Auditor-General, the operation of the Queensland Audit Office, the nature and scope of audits to be conducted, and the relationship of the Auditor-General with parliament.  Australian accounting standards  The rules by which financial statements are prepared in Australia. These standards ensure consistency in measuring and reporting on similar transactions.  Australian Accounting Standards  Board (AASB)  An Australian Government agency that develops and maintains accounting standards applicable to entities in the private and public sectors of the Australian economy.  Capital expenditure  Expenditure to acquire assets or improve the service potential of existing assets that are capitalised to the balance sheet (which means that the cost of the assets can be allocated over the years for which the asset will be in use).  Controlled entities  The capacity of an entity to dominate decision-making, directly or indirectly, in relation to the financial and operating policies of another entity so as to enable that other entity to operate with it in achieving the objectives of the controlling entity.  Depreciation  The systematic allocation of a fixed asset's value as an expense over its expected useful life, to take account of normal usage, obsolescence, or the passage of time.  Emphasis of matter  A paragraph included with an audit opinion to highlight an issue of which the auditor believes the users of the financial statements need to be aware. The inclusion of an emphasis of matter paragraph does not modify the audit opinion.  Fair value  The amount for which an asset could be exchanged, or a liability settled, between knowledgeable, willing parties, in an arm's length transaction.  A modified opinion is expressed when fina	Accountability	operations, compliance with applicable laws, and reports to responsibilities of the Auditor-General, the operation of the Queensland Audit Office, the nature and scope of audits to be conducted, and the relationship of the Auditor-General with parliament.  Australian accounting standards  The rules by which financial statements are prepared in Australia. These standards ensure consistency in measuring and reporting on similar transactions.  Australian Accounting Standards Board (AASB)  An Australian Government agency that develops and maintains accounting standards applicable to entities in the private and public sectors of the Australian economy.  Capital expenditure  Expenditure to acquire assets or improve the service potential of existing assets that are capitalised to the balance sheet (which means that the cost of the assets can be allocated over the years for which the asset will be in use).  Controlled entities  The capacity of an entity to dominate decision-making, directly or indirectly, in relation to the financial and operating policies of another entity so as to enable that other entity to operate with it in achieving the objectives of the controlling entity.  Depreciation  The systematic allocation of a fixed asset's value as an expense over its expected useful life, to take account of normal usage, obsolescence, or the passage of time.  Emphasis of matter  A paragraph included with an audit opinion to highlight an issue of which the auditor believes the users of the financial statements need to be aware. The inclusion of an emphasis of matter paragraph does not modify the audit opinion.  Fair value  The amount for which an asset could be exchanged, or a liability settled, between knowledgeable, willing parties, in an arm's length transaction.  Modified audit opinion  A modified opinion is expressed when financial statements do not comply with the relevant legislative requirements and Australian accounting standards and, as a result, are not accurate and reliable	Accrual basis of accounting	they occur (and not as cash or its equivalent is received or paid) and they are recorded in the accounting records and reported in the
These standards ensure consistency in measuring and reporting on similar transactions.  Australian Accounting Standards Board (AASB)  An Australian Government agency that develops and maintains accounting standards applicable to entities in the private and public sectors of the Australian economy.  Capital expenditure  Expenditure to acquire assets or improve the service potential of existing assets that are capitalised to the balance sheet (which means that the cost of the assets can be allocated over the years for which the asset will be in use).  Controlled entities  The capacity of an entity to dominate decision-making, directly or indirectly, in relation to the financial and operating policies of another entity so as to enable that other entity to operate with it in achieving the objectives of the controlling entity.  Depreciation  The systematic allocation of a fixed asset's value as an expense over its expected useful life, to take account of normal usage, obsolescence, or the passage of time.  Emphasis of matter  A paragraph included with an audit opinion to highlight an issue of which the auditor believes the users of the financial statements need to be aware. The inclusion of an emphasis of matter paragraph does not modify the audit opinion.  Fair value  The amount for which an asset could be exchanged, or a liability settled, between knowledgeable, willing parties, in an arm's length transaction.  Modified audit opinion  A modified opinion is expressed when financial statements do not comply with the relevant legislative requirements and Australian accounting standards and, as a result, are not accurate and reliable	Auditor-General Act 2009	responsibilities of the Auditor-General, the operation of the Queensland Audit Office, the nature and scope of audits to be conducted, and the relationship of the Auditor-General with
Board (AASB)  accounting standards applicable to entities in the private and public sectors of the Australian economy.  Capital expenditure  Expenditure to acquire assets or improve the service potential of existing assets that are capitalised to the balance sheet (which means that the cost of the assets can be allocated over the years for which the asset will be in use).  Controlled entities  The capacity of an entity to dominate decision-making, directly or indirectly, in relation to the financial and operating policies of another entity so as to enable that other entity to operate with it in achieving the objectives of the controlling entity.  Depreciation  The systematic allocation of a fixed asset's value as an expense over its expected useful life, to take account of normal usage, obsolescence, or the passage of time.  Emphasis of matter  A paragraph included with an audit opinion to highlight an issue of which the auditor believes the users of the financial statements need to be aware. The inclusion of an emphasis of matter paragraph does not modify the audit opinion.  Fair value  The amount for which an asset could be exchanged, or a liability settled, between knowledgeable, willing parties, in an arm's length transaction.  Modified audit opinion  A modified opinion is expressed when financial statements do not comply with the relevant legislative requirements and Australian accounting standards and, as a result, are not accurate and reliable	Australian accounting standards	These standards ensure consistency in measuring and reporting on existing assets that are capitalised to the balance sheet (which means that the cost of the assets can be allocated over the years for which the asset will be in use).  Controlled entities  The capacity of an entity to dominate decision-making, directly or indirectly, in relation to the financial and operating policies of another entity so as to enable that other entity to operate with it in achieving the objectives of the controlling entity.  Depreciation  The systematic allocation of a fixed asset's value as an expense over its expected useful life, to take account of normal usage, obsolescence, or the passage of time.  Emphasis of matter  A paragraph included with an audit opinion to highlight an issue of which the auditor believes the users of the financial statements need to be aware. The inclusion of an emphasis of matter paragraph does not modify the audit opinion.  Fair value  The amount for which an asset could be exchanged, or a liability settled, between knowledgeable, willing parties, in an arm's length transaction.  Modified audit opinion  A modified opinion is expressed when financial statements do not comply with the relevant legislative requirements and Australian accounting standards and, as a result, are not accurate and reliable	•	accounting standards applicable to entities in the private and public indirectly, in relation to the financial and operating policies of another entity so as to enable that other entity to operate with it in achieving the objectives of the controlling entity.  Depreciation  The systematic allocation of a fixed asset's value as an expense over its expected useful life, to take account of normal usage, obsolescence, or the passage of time.  Emphasis of matter  A paragraph included with an audit opinion to highlight an issue of which the auditor believes the users of the financial statements need to be aware. The inclusion of an emphasis of matter paragraph does not modify the audit opinion.  Fair value  The amount for which an asset could be exchanged, or a liability settled, between knowledgeable, willing parties, in an arm's length transaction.  Modified audit opinion  A modified opinion is expressed when financial statements do not comply with the relevant legislative requirements and Australian accounting standards and, as a result, are not accurate and reliable	Capital expenditure	existing assets that are capitalised to the balance sheet (which means that the cost of the assets can be allocated over the years over its expected useful life, to take account of normal usage, obsolescence, or the passage of time.  Emphasis of matter  A paragraph included with an audit opinion to highlight an issue of which the auditor believes the users of the financial statements need to be aware. The inclusion of an emphasis of matter paragraph does not modify the audit opinion.  Fair value  The amount for which an asset could be exchanged, or a liability settled, between knowledgeable, willing parties, in an arm's length transaction.  Modified audit opinion  A modified opinion is expressed when financial statements do not comply with the relevant legislative requirements and Australian accounting standards and, as a result, are not accurate and reliable	Controlled entities	indirectly, in relation to the financial and operating policies of another entity so as to enable that other entity to operate with it in which the auditor believes the users of the financial statements need to be aware. The inclusion of an emphasis of matter paragraph does not modify the audit opinion.  Fair value  The amount for which an asset could be exchanged, or a liability settled, between knowledgeable, willing parties, in an arm's length transaction.  Modified audit opinion  A modified opinion is expressed when financial statements do not comply with the relevant legislative requirements and Australian accounting standards and, as a result, are not accurate and reliable	Depreciation	over its expected useful life, to take account of normal usage, settled, between knowledgeable, willing parties, in an arm's length transaction.  Modified audit opinion  A modified opinion is expressed when financial statements do not comply with the relevant legislative requirements and Australian accounting standards and, as a result, are not accurate and reliable	Emphasis of matter	which the auditor believes the users of the financial statements need to be aware. The inclusion of an emphasis of matter comply with the relevant legislative requirements and Australian accounting standards and, as a result, are not accurate and reliable	Fair value	settled, between knowledgeable, willing parties, in an arm's length
Net worth/net assets	Modified audit opinion
	Net worth/net assets	Total assets less total liabilities.
Net debt Total borrowings less cash.	Net debt	Total borrowings less cash.

Term	Definition
Net operating balance	Total revenue less total expenses.
Public–private partnership	Cooperative agreements generally entered into with private sector entities for the delivery of government services.
Unmodified audit opinion	An unmodified opinion is expressed when financial statements are prepared in accordance with the relevant legislative requirements and Australian accounting standards.
Useful life	The number of years an entity expects to use an asset (not the maximum period possible for the asset to exist).